

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE
COST ESTIMATE

September 26, 2008

S. 3482

A bill to designate a portion of the Rappahannock River in the Commonwealth of Virginia as the “John W. Warner Rapids”

As ordered reported by the Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works on September 17, 2008

S. 3482 would designate a portion of the Rappahannock River in the Commonwealth of Virginia as the “John W. Warner Rapids.” The portion of the river to be designated is on locally owned land in the city of Fredericksburg, Virginia. Under the legislation, the United States Geological Survey (USGS) would show the designation on its maps when they are updated. Based on information from the USGS, CBO estimates that any resulting costs to the agency would be negligible. Any costs would be subject to the availability of appropriated funds. S. 3482 would not affect direct spending or revenues.

S. 3482 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.
